Market drivers

Crude and other local factors, how global markets reach India, and the events and data ahead

2.1 · WHAT IS DRIVING MARKETS

US inflation, crude and India's own price data frame the first session after the holiday

Crude oil. Brent settled at $91.49 on Tuesday, its lowest since 31 Aug, after President Trump said he would put off new strikes on Iran and Middle East shipments neared prewar levels (Reuters, Rigzone). India imports most of its crude, so oil prices reach the import bill, the rupee and fuel inflation. Reuters via Investing.com, Rigzone

Foreign flows. Foreign investors bought a net ₹53,172 crore in the cash market from 1 to 9 Nov while domestic institutions sold ₹32,069 crore (provisional, Kotak Neo). Foreign flows feed into large-cap share prices and the rupee; provisional figures can be revised. Kotak Neo FII/DII data, Trendlyne

Inflation in India. Retail inflation was 5.54% in September (provisional), with food prices up 7.74% (Business Standard). ICRA's Aditi Nayar expects October's reading at 6.1% (NewsBytes). Inflation readings shape rate expectations, which reach bond yields and loan rates. Business Standard, NewsBytes

The rupee and bonds. The rupee firmed 5 paise on Monday on easing crude and foreign inflows, PTI reported, while the 10-year yield rose to 7.17% as investors took profits after a rally (Trading Economics). Bond prices rise when yields fall. PTI via Telangana Today, Trading Economics

2.2 · HOW GLOBAL MARKETS REACH INDIA

US inflation and the Fed. US consumer prices rose 0.4% in October and core prices 0.3% (BLS). After the data, CME FedWatch showed a December Fed rate rise fully priced (Seoul Economic Daily), and Fed Governor Waller said he would back at least a quarter-point rise (Reuters). Higher US rates can weigh on foreign flows into Indian shares and bonds. US Bureau of Labor Statistics, Seoul Economic Daily, Reuters via Investing.com

US yields and the dollar. The 10-year Treasury yield rose about 10 basis points to near 5% on Tuesday and the dollar index edged higher (Trading Economics). A firmer dollar tends to weigh on the rupee and other emerging-market currencies. Trading Economics, CappNotes

Asian markets. On Tuesday, while India was shut, Japan's Nikkei rose 2.9% and Korea's Kospi 4.4% (AP). On Wednesday morning the Kospi opened lower, then turned higher, Aju Press reported. AP via KSAT, Aju Press

3.1 · THE US SESSION

US shares fell on Tuesday after hotter inflation data; Japanese and Korean shares rose

The session. US shares fell on Tuesday after October consumer prices rose more than expected (TheStreet). Regan Capital's Skyler Weinand, quoted by TheStreet, described a move out of AI-linked shares into defensive sectors such as healthcare. TheStreet, AP via KRMG

Inflation. Consumer prices rose 0.4% in October and core prices 0.3%; the BLS published no 12-month rate for the headline index because October 2025 survey data were not collected. US Bureau of Labor Statistics

Shares and rates. Nvidia fell 5.47% and at one point slipped to third by market value (Seoul Economic Daily). The 10-year Treasury yield rose about 10 basis points to 4.99% (Trading Economics). Seoul Economic Daily, Trading Economics

L-010: Why a scheme's riskometer can change

Every mutual fund scheme shows a riskometer, a dial that places its risk on a scale; the levels named in last week's revisions ran from Low to Very High.

The level follows what the scheme holds. On 6 and 7 November several fund houses revised levels, most based on their end-October portfolios, moving some schemes up and some down (Upstox News).

A change in level does not mean a scheme has changed its category or objective. The latest level, and the reasons for it, are in the fund house's own documents.
